CREDENTIALS

My name is Jada Monica Drew. I was born and raised in Rich Square, North Carolina where I learned the importance of family, community, integrity and character. I have a very deep interest in educating the youth of the next generation and I impart into them by exploring the globe, challenging thoughts and creating a safe environment to develop as a leader.

I have a particular set of skills I have acquired over time through community outreach, global exploration, social justice, and as a board member with several organizations. I'm always excited to learn new things, challenge previous thoughts, adapt to environments and analyze my own privilege.

I would gladly welcome the opportunity to learn new things and contribute to your organization.
